Introduction

Colliers International is pleased to present an exceptional investment opportunity – a prime waterfront RV park and campground located in Central Saanich, British Columbia.

Encompassing two contiguous parcels, the Beachcomber RV Resort is situated on just under 10 acres of land and provides over 1,300 lineal feet of low-bank, walk-on ocean frontage. Accessible via a beautiful rural, all-weather road, this hidden gem is located only 20 minutes from the Swartz Bay ferry terminal and under 20 minutes to downtown Victoria, British Columbia's capital city.

The property is comprised of three main components. The upper level of the property is situated at the end of Campion Road and is perched atop a bluff that offers breathtaking views to the east, over the Southern Gulf Islands and majestic Mount Baker in the far distance. This part of the property is partially situated in the Agricultural Land Reserve and is improved with a 1,176 square foot residence. The lower terrace is situated just above sea level, immediately to the above beach. This is the location of the RV park which features 60 seasonal RV sites, many of them situated immediately adjacent to a beautiful, swimmable beach. Between the upper and lower portions of the property is a forested bluff which rises from sea level to the upper bench and transitions to the productive agricultural lands to the west of the property.

Operating as the Beachcomber RV Park, the property generates seasonal income through the rental of serviced RV pads. Individual sites offer 15 and 30 amp power and water hookups. A 1,223 square foot, two-bedroom caretaker's home and resort office anchor the resort and provides comfortable accommodation for an owner or a manager. Most of the RV sites are rented on a seasonal basis but nightly or weekly rentals are also a possibility.

Beachcomber has operated seasonally for many years and is run under the provisions of a Temporary Use Permit which has been renewed on multiple occasions. Designated as Destination Commercial in the Official Community Plan, the property can be rezoned to conform with the OCP and can accommodate tourist commercial development such as cabins, a boutique resort, ongoing RV rental uses or other tourism related uses.

Area Overview

Area Overview

Vancouver Island

Vancouver Island is the largest island on the west coast of North America and is separated from the British Columbia Mainland by the Strait of Georgia. The climatic influence of the Pacific Ocean tempers the typical freezing Canadian winter temperatures. Winters are mild with significant precipitation and warm dry summers. While the maritime influence on the Island's climate provides for mild winters and warm summers, there are a variety of region specific climates ranging from Semi-Mediterranean in the Southeast to temperate rain forest on the Northern and Western coasts.

Natural resources and service industries still play a significant role in Vancouver Island's economy. Business services and educational, tech and knowledge-based sectors are the dominant economic mainstays in Victoria and Nanaimo, the two largest cities on the island. Tourism growth over the past several decades has grown exponentially providing further stimulus to the overall health of economic and labour growth. Vancouver Island has historically, and continues to be, a haven for lifestyle-driven affluent boomer retirees.

Jurisdictional Information

Official Community Plan

The Official Community Plan (OCP) is not a zoning bylaw nor does it supersede any existing zoning or land use contracts. It does, however outline the City's planning objectives for the area and places some limitation on the freedom of Council to rezone a property to allow any use other than one contained in the plan designation. Often, within the OCP, there are Neighbourhood Concept Plans (NCP's) that focus on a particular neighbourhood and provide a more comprehensive land use and servicing plan that is intended to guide future rezoning and development of lands in the surrounding neighbourhood. NCP's are an integral part of the Official Community Plan and are established based on public information meetings and detailed planning input from the municipality.

Based off of recent recommendations and the development of a new OCP, the District Corporation of Central Saanich has proposed the subject property to be zoned as Destination Commercial to permit a range of land uses particularly targeting travelling public and tourism economy. Uses may be seasonal in nature or include public events.

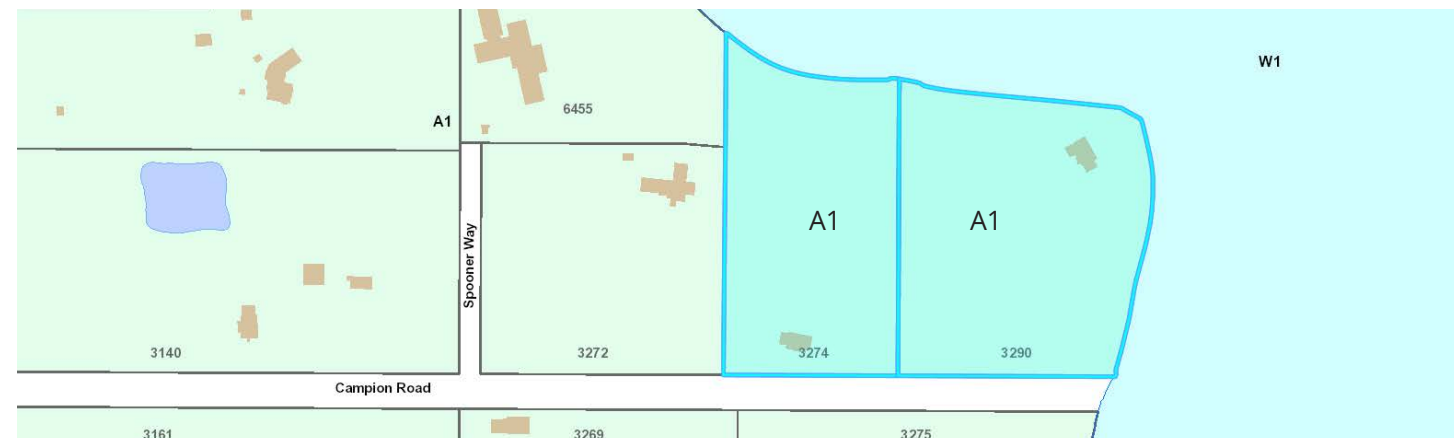

Zoning

Central Saanich Land Use Bylaw No. 2072 regulates how land, buildings and other structures may be used and located on a property. The District is divided into areas or "zones" and each of these zones have particular designations, such as single family residential, multi-family, industrial, commercial or agricultural. The subject property currently zoned as Agriculture A-1.

Permitted uses in the Agriculture A-1 zone are defined in the Land Use Bylaw, Section 38.1, and these include agriculture, agriculture processing, greenhouse, equestrian and residential single family. Uses beyond what is permitted specifically in the zoning, may be permitted if supported by Council and the Provincial Agricultural Land Commission (ALC), Beachcomber RV Resort has operated seasonally for many years and is run under the provisions of a Temporary Use Permit (see Appendix A), which has been renewed on multiple occasions. Designated as Destination Commercial in the Official Community Plan, the property can be rezoned to conform with the OCP and can accommodate tourist commercial development such as cabins, a boutique resort, ongoing RV rental uses or other tourism related uses.

Rezoning applications consistent with the OCP will be encouraged.

OCP Designation	Intent of Use
Destination Commercial 	To permit a range of land uses particularly targeting the traveling public and tourism economy. Uses may be seasonal in nature or include public events.
Agricultural Land Reserve 	Outside of the Urban Containment Boundary and almost entirely within the provincial Agricultural Land Reserve, Farming is the preferred and predominant land use. Outside of the Urban Containment Boundary to permit low density residential uses in rural areas Housing forms supported include single-detached, secondary suites, accessory cottage or carriage house.
Marine Shoreline Designated Permit Access (30m landward & 30m seaward) 	Rural Shoreline are areas with direct shoreline access. These are areas where existing and future development could impact the marine shoreline and where properties may be subject to marine related impacts of climate change.
